MBA CSEA and Dress for Success Dallas Partner to Provide Free Job Search Assistance

May 11, 2015 – The MBA Career Services & Employer Alliance, a professional association for graduate management career services professionals and employers, is partnering with Dress for Success Dallas to give back to the community during their 2015 Global Conference in Dallas, TX.

Conference participants, which represent business schools and recruiters, will to lend their collective knowledge and expertise in career coaching and hiring to help those in need with their job search skills. The service project will take place Friday, June 26 at the Omni Dallas.

“I think it’s important for us to make a positive impact on the communities we visit for our conferences each year. This is a great way for our members to use their talents and experience to give back,” says Megan Hendricks, executive director for MBA CSEA.

This is the first service project for the association, who aims to continue the trend in other areas.

“Dress for Success Dallas is built on the cornerstone of hope and collaboration, says Janie Bordner, executive director for Dress for Success Dallas. “We could not provide services to more than 1300 women annually without great community partners like MBA CSEA. Service projects like this provide hope to the women we serve and let them know that someone out there cares and supports them. Change one woman and you can change the world!”
